

Ethics of Mind

Responsibility, Normativity, and Rationality

Schedule

Monday, July 31st

08:30 am Welcome

SECTION ONE: NEW PERSPECTIVES ON BELIEF NORMATIVITY

08:45 am David Owens (London):
Value and Epistemic Normativity

10:00 am Coffee break

10:15 am Asbjørn Steglich-Petersen (Aarhus):
Instrumental Transmission and Reasons for Belief

11:30 am Martina Lindner (Marburg):
Implications of the Debate on Doxastic Voluntarism for W. K. Clifford's Ethics of Belief

12:45 pm Lunch

02:45 pm Matthew Chrisman (Edinburgh):
Diverse Perspectives, Democratic Activities of Mind, and What We Ought to Believe

04:00 pm Coffee break

04:30 pm Lisa Marani (Erlangen):
How to Evaluate Epistemic Aims

07:00 pm Dinner

Tuesday, August 1st

08:45 am Anne Meylan (Basel):
Doxastic Responsibility: Delusion Vs. Self-Deception

10:00 am Coffee break

SECTION TWO: TOWARDS AN ETHICS OF MIND

10:15 am Sebastian Schmidt (Erlangen):
Guiding Our Mind Towards the Good: A Critical Defense of Mental Pragmatism

11:30 am Miriam Schleifer McCormick (Richmond):
The Value of a Free and Wandering Mind

12:45 pm Lunch

02:45 pm Benjamin Kiesewetter (Berlin):
Reasons for Actions and Reasons for Attitudes

04:00 pm Coffee break

04:30 pm Conor McHugh (Southampton):
Absence and Reasons Against Attitudes

07:00 pm Dinner

Wednesday, August 2nd

08:45 am Gerhard Ernst (Erlangen):
Too True to be Good. On the Relation Between Epistemic and Practical Rationality

10:00 am Coffee break

10:15 am Sabine Döring (Tübingen):
The Normativity of Rationality, Proper Functioning Self-Governance, and Volitional Necessity

11:30 am D. Justin Coates (Houston):
Generosity and Epistemic Conscientiousness

12:45 pm Lunch/Departure

MIND